

SOCIOLOGISTS TO REPORT ON FRENCH CANADA

Peggy Macdonald and Frieda Bindman Reveal Findings

MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Will Show Influence of Rapid Industrialization on French-Canadian Culture

"FRENCH Canada Under the Microscope" will be discussed at the last meeting of the Sociological Society in Strathcona Hall on Wednesday, March 23 at 8.15. At this meeting definitely-established facts about French Canada will be presented to the audience from a sociological point of view.

The subject will be treated by two speakers. Peggy Macdonald will reveal some of the recent findings of the research projects, which are now being conducted. She will speak in particular about the town of Drummondville, once a thriving French commercial community, but now less prosperous because of the invasion of English industry and capital.

Frieda Bindman, who will take up the subject at that point, will describe Thetford Mines, the asbestos centre, where the French work under English officials and live under the leadership of the English aristocracy.

RESEARCH PROJECTS. The research projects which the Department of Sociology is now conducting are pioneer work—the first extensive study to be undertaken by any Canadian University on French Canada. The findings depict the movement of French population into English areas; the relative positions of French and English in the social structure of specific communities. The problems arising from the simultaneous invasion of the French population and English capital will be described. Special emphasis will be laid on the rapid industrialization of Quebec and the resultant effects on French-Canadian culture.

A special discussion period has been set aside after the papers have been read. This meeting of the Sociological Society is open to all students of Sociology.

THEOLOGISTS VOTE

Today at 4 p.m. in Divinity Hall the Theological Undergraduate Society will meet for the main purpose of holding annual elections.

The retiring executive: President, Morton Freeman (Presbyterian); vice-president, Bernard Harrison (Diocesan); secretary-treasurer, Arthur Lovelace (United), will give place to a president from the United College, a vice-president from the Presbyterians and a secretary-treasurer from the Anglicans.

Other officers of the Society who remain in office until later dates are: A. E. Hawes, representative on McGill Students' Council; Jesse Bigelow, athletics manager.

Another item on the agenda for this meeting is the presentation of a revised Constitution

I.S.S. ARRANGE EUROPEAN TOUR

Lectures, Conferences, Camp Facilities Offered Students

Course in Journalism at Geneva Features World's Leading Reporters

THE summer programme of International Student Service, which has just been announced, offers facilities to Canadian students to meet young people in Europe through conferences, tours, work-camps and a course in journalism.

The seventeenth Annual Conference of I.S.S. will be held at Les Avants, Switzerland, during the first week of August. Here students from all over Europe will gather to listen to internationally known lecturers discuss "The Student and Society." Radicals, conservatives and liberals will learn and talk about students and politics, welfare problems, the professions, relief work and international conferences.

STUDY TOUR.

For serious students of international affairs, I.S.S. together with the Open Road is sponsoring a study tour in conjunction with the above conference. Dealing with the subject "Political Trends in the European Democracies," one week will be spent in London, one week in Paris, and the final week at Les Avants. Open to a strictly limited number of students the group will leave New York on July 7th and return on August 18th. There will be special interviews with government leaders, opposition party chiefs, noted educators, foreign and American journalists.

The Fourth Annual I.S.S. Course for Students of Journalism will take place at Geneva between July 12th and 22nd. Here students and young journalists will meet and listen to some of the world's leading reporters discuss the "Press, its National and International Problems." They will deal with the role of newspapermen in formulating public opinion, propaganda, press services, the national press including those in the totalitarian states, news-gathering, editing, the university press, and the international functions of radio. Among others, speakers will include Ver-

SOCIAL CREDIT PRESENTED AS SATIRE TARGET

Dorothy McCaig Illustrates Talk by Cartoons

CRITICISMS BIGOTED

Satirists Use Crude Methods and Attack Personalities, Not Policies

A "PERFECT pattern of a pious profit premier," better known as William Aberhart, of Alberta, was the target of a great deal of malicious, personal slander, Dorothy McCaig informed the Literature Society yesterday.

She outlined the policy of the Social Credit party, of which he is the head, and gave examples, in cartoon, verse, and pamphlet, of the crude methods of the satirists. "They may be sincere, but they are certainly bigoted, and they make no real attempt to be fair. It's the personalities, and not the plan that's attacked—because it's difficult to find a plan." Miss McCaig added that "the satire is beside the point, because the theory is beside the point."

RHINOCEROS HIDE.

One of the cleverest cartoons satirized Mr. Aberhart's love of concentrating many offices in himself; another took literally his remark about him having the hide of a rhinoceros, and showed him shielding himself with it from the rebels' onslaughts. The one that got the most laughs compared several well-known salutes: the Mussolini, arm raised high; the Hitler, slightly lower; the Aberhart, palm outstretched in the traditional 'gimme' manner.

A great many libellous remarks were made questioning the Premier's sanity. "Is Aberhart insane, or insane?" asked one editorial. When he accused his opponents of having the mentality of thirteen-year-old children, they retorted in a similar manner. Parodying Aberhart's substitution of scrip for money, one writer suggested using instead "Nuts For the Nut."

PUNGENT PARODY.

"Able, as he is unaffectionately known," has appeared in various parodies of works by Robert Burns and Gilbert and Sullivan. An elaborate parody, called "Alice in Flounderland," terms the Social Crediters "nothing but a pack of office-seekers." Even the Holy Scriptures have been recruited by their opponents. The 23rd Psalm reads in their amended version, "He maketh me to lie down on park benches." They beg: "Forgive us our impatience, as we forgive those who have elected you."

His cohort, Mrs. Gostick, has come in for more than her share of the slander, and a scientific study of the habits of the Social Crediters has been made. It is said that, since his election, "Sunny Alberta" has become "the Plains of Aberhart."

"The situation is deplorable," concluded Dorothy McCaig. "The satire is ineffective, and almost futile," because it's still undeveloped, and unpunished. "Less mud-slinging!" was her suggestion.

COSMOS TASTE DANISH DISHES

Hold Final Meeting Sunday at Scandinavian Club

Executive to Be Elected—Report of Year's Activities Presented

A MENU including Klar Suppe, Flaesketeig M. Rodkaal, Brune Kartoffel, Able Kage-Flodeskum, og Kaffe, will be the order of the day when the Cosmos round off this season's activities with a Danish Dinner. This luncheon meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club is to be held at 1 p.m. on Sunday at the Scandinavian Club Restaurant, 1243 Mountain Street.

A group will meet at 12.30 on Sunday at Strathcona Hall and will proceed from there to the Club but those who find it more convenient to do so may meet the others at the restaurant. The price of the dinner is 45 cents and those intending to go are asked to sign their names on the list in Strathcona Hall. Beer and wine will be available with the dinner.

This meeting is open to all students, and prospective members of the club will be eligible to vote in the election of next year's executive. A nominating committee will present a slate of officers but nominations from the floor will be accepted.

Other business at the meeting will include the report of the year's activities. Although only organized last fall the club has had a particularly busy season. Its activities have been really cosmopolitan, including a Chinese Dinner, a Hungarian Dinner, featuring a Gypsy orchestra, an International Music Night, and, two weeks ago, the International Masquerade, which was voted a great success.

FREEDMAN ELECTED CIRCLE PRESIDENT

The new executive of the Maccabean Circle was installed last night at a well-attended meeting of the Circle. Sidney Freedman was elected to the position of president by acclamation. The other positions were filled by Freida Belkin, as vice-president; Bill Viner, as treasurer; and Henrietta Ein as secretary.

WOMEN'S UNION M. W. S. A. A. TO GATHER TODAY

Future Policies of Women's Union Will Be Determined

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Entertainment Committee May Be Appointed by M.W.S.A.A.; Like Scarlet Key

TODAY the Annual Meeting of the Women's Union will be held in the Common Room of R.V.C. at 2.30 p.m. All members of the Women's Union are urged to attend. The business to be considered includes:

1. Reports of the clubs and societies under the Women's Union.
2. Report from delegates to the National Conference of Canadian University Students.
3. Consideration of the advisability of changing the constitution to make the office of Vice-President elective, the President of the M.W.S.A.A. remaining a member of the executive of the Women's Union, but being relieved of some of the responsibility.
4. Consideration of the whole future policy of the Women's Union, and the advisability of spending the Savings fund on the establishment of Women's Union quarters within R.V.C. itself.
5. Discussion of the current policy of making gifts to charities at Christmas, its advisability and constitutionality.

The executive would be glad to hear of any other business which should be brought up. The executive is most anxious that the members of the Union should come ready to discuss the above questions.

ATHLETIC MEETING. Following this meeting the M.W.S.A.A. semi-annual meeting will be held.

In addition to the two amendments which appeared in the Daily of March 14th, an additional one has been proposed, and is posted on the notice-board in R.V.C. It concerns the establishment of a committee similar in its organization, on a miniature scale, to that of the Scarlet Key. The purpose of this committee would be to entertain visitors to the associations, and to help in the organization of any college activity as representatives of the women's student body. A tentative constitution for this committee has been drawn up and is on the M.W.S.A.A. notice-board. Accordingly, the three amendments which will be proposed provide:

1. That the wording in the constitution, article 5, which is concerned with the elections, be changed from "The president and treasurer be elected from the Faculty of Arts (or Commerce)" to "be elected from the Faculty of Arts and Science (or Commerce)."
2. That the quorum be reduced from 100 members, as stated in Article 10 of the Constitution, to 50 members of the Association—Moved by Molly Coote, seconded by Mona Robinson.
3. That a sub-committee be incorporated in the M.W.S.A.A. with purpose as outlined in the Constitution of the Committee. (Purpose stated above in this write-up). Moved by Mary Richmond, seconded by Beatrice Barclay.

Elections for officers and managers for next year will take place. A quorum of 100 members is necessary.

PAST EDITORS

AS editors and reporters, past and present, gathered in the Union last night to write 30 to Volume 27 of the oldest college paper in Canada, Gerald Clark, assistant news editor this year, was announced Editor-in-Chief of the Daily and President of the Canadian University Press to succeed John H. McDonald. The two other members appointed to the Managing Board which takes office this July are Ronald Stephen, Managing Editor, and Ed. Lemieux, News Editor. Monty Berger will be in charge of the Sports Department, and Glyn Owen will fill the post of Feature Editor.

Among many other past members of the Daily staff present was Major "Bill" Murray, founder of the paper, who replied to the toast to the Daily proposed by Ev. Crutchlow. Recalling the modest beginnings of the paper, he related how the great adventure of a daily sheet was launched at McGill, and how the change from the weekly Martlet was called "nonsense" by some. Describing the editorial policy of the newly-formed daily, he told how in the "glossary of viewing," an event was first viewed "with some misgiving," progressed through degrees of "apprehension, concern, alarm, consternation not unminged with incredulity," until it arrived at the stage when "The editors are staggered to observe."

EARLY DAYS RECALLED.

The Daily was not always on such friendly terms with the Student Council in the early days of its existence as it is today, said Major Murray. At one time, the paper commented editorially, "The Daily is pleased to announce that the Student Council has returned to its senses, albeit on probation." In concluding his remarks, the Major believed that, whatever may happen in Europe, the Daily should remain an island of civilization and an assessor of real values.

Other "old boys" present were John Nolan, who presented a gold ring to the retiring Editor-in-Chief; Allan Anderson, last year's News Editor; and Phil Vineberg, Managing Editor 1936-37, who has never ceased wondering how the Daily improved since he left. During the course of addresses, a telegram was received from L. S. B. Shapiro, writer of "Lights and Shadows of Manhattan," of The Gazette, and an ex-Sports Editor of the Daily. It reads as follows: "New York, March 17; Hearty congratulations to you and the Daily staff for putting out an expert and robust paper all season; Finny Fletcher will probably tell you we put out a better paper in the old days, but don't believe him—you've done a much better job. Have one on me—Lionel S. B. Shapiro."

TOASTS PROPOSED.

Toasts were proposed to the publishers, by the retiring news editor, Arnold Isenman, to those graduating, by Tommy Montgomery, with Pete Fuller replying, and to the "old boys," by John Aikin, to which Phil Vineberg replied.

Just before the announcement of next year's staff, John McDonald, reviewing the work of the Daily for the past two years, stated that he was indebted to both John Nolan and E. Crutchlow for the assistance which they gave him during that time.

WITH a mingled sigh of relief and regret we realize that this is the last DAILY we will ever publish; relief that a year of hard, sometimes extremely hard, work is over; regret that we are severing a connection with that which we have come to regard as our own.

McGill has been the centre of a great struggle during the past two years. About us are those who would curtail our liberties. McGill students have stood firm in the face of this oncoming oppression. We, McGill students, have not struggled in vain. We have helped build up a tradition of freedom around the name McGill. The DAILY has shared in this work. The DAILY has always stood for a free press and freedom of thought and speech. It has not been beaten into submission during the past, twelve months.

We, the outgoing Managing Board, have tried to uphold the best traditions of the DAILY. Under our guidance the DAILY has undergone a transformation from its old seven column size to its present eight column format. We have attempted to place before our readers features of special interest. We have had series of interviews with interesting people. We have had faculty columns. We helped form the Canadian University Press and as a member we have been in a position to bring you up to the minute news and expressions of opinion from every Campus in the country.

This year we have had many controversial subjects to report. We have had to take a definite stand on the question of the Padlock Law. We have throughout the year tried to be impartial in Campus issues. We realize that there are those who feel that they have not had the publicity they hoped for—we ask for your indulgence. We have made mistakes—we ask for your forgiveness.

We have tried to run a clean paper. We have tried to keep suggestive stories out of our columns. We have tried to support McGill activities first and foremost—but we have always criticised where we had some constructive criticism to offer. We have never felt that just because a cause is branded 'McGill' it is blessed and therefore should be praised unquestionably. There have been times when we have spoken out very bluntly. We hope that the DAILY will never hesitate to criticise McGill for its own good.

The staff of any newspaper is its life blood. Without our staff the Managing Board would have been helpless. The DAILY staff works without pay or tangible remuneration. Ours is one of the few College Newspaper staffs in America who do the job for the love of the work. We believe that this in itself has helped build up an esprit de corps found in few other College papers. The present Managing Board wishes to thank sincerely all those who by

HERE AND THERE

By PETE FULLER

THIS is the last time we'll be dishing it out in the Daily and probably the last "tasty" morsel we'll ever write for any one. Naturally we've had a lot of fun and only hope that we've offended no one. Writing a column in a college paper, one has to try to give an honest opinion and yet display at the same time plenty of "ye olde college spirit," quite a task sometimes, especially after a team has lost several games in succession.

OUR sincere thanks to the Athletic Office and to the team managers for the real co-operation they have always given. It is only by both parties being willing to give and take, even though it sometimes means holding back a true story that a successful sports page can be turned out. Our thanks to the swell staff we had working with us this year and congratulations to Monty Berger who really knows something about sports writing. JUST a few memories of the highlights and thrilling moments in Sports during the five years we have been around McGill.

LAIRD WATT was the tennis king at McGill, beating Bobby Murray every time they met.

McGill Cage Squad took the Intercollegiate crown for the fourth season in a row. Young, Small, etc. were members of the team.

Red hockey team goes 23 games without a defeat, wins city title with classic defeat of Canadiens 4-1 with goaler Maurice Powers occupying the penalty bench while the boys scored the winning goal.

SENIOR Hockeyists make play-offs in city league but lose out to Ottawa. Basketball finally lose grip on Intercollegiate crown. As usual, McGill Skiers place second to Dartmouth at Carnival. Bob Murray takes over tennis title and helps college to win crown.

1935-36.

ATHLETES have big year winning seven intercollegiate titles. Tracksters win sixth straight time with Phil Edwards and Jimmy Worrall well to the fore. O'Brien football coach, but only for one year. Twelve thousand fans gathered at the Forum for the Nels Crutchfield benefit, probably the greatest hockey player to ever wear the Red and White. McGill skiers begin to take command of local picture. In a dramatic finish, featuring four boxing victories, McGill wins the B. W. & F. by margin of 1-3 of a point.

DOUG KERR has first season as football coach. McGill wins seventh consecutive track title and famous blocked kick results in the football team taking Toronto by 8-3. Before a full house the Redmen run riot over Harvard to take the first International Intercollegiate hockey title without a defeat. Last season for Bobby Bell as coach. A good time was had by all, especially the men, with the co-ed cagers at home to the other universities.

FOOTBALL team, acknowledged to be the team with the most fight in the league, defeat Toronto here in never to be forgotten, movie finish and just lose out at Toronto in what the writer considers the best exhibition of football McGill showed all year. Hugh Farquharson is new hockey mentor but due to graduations and at first no confidence in themselves, team loses seven straight in City league before Xmas. After Xmas team loses only once, to Queen's, just misses City play-offs and takes Intercollegiate title. Engineers lose hockey game to Co-eds, the latter receiving plenty of support all season from certain men on the Campus. Intramural sports seem to be on the way up again to the important place they held about ten years ago.

AFTER the maze of the banquet we found a story saying that Russ McConnell had been appointed the captain of the hockey team. Our heartiest congratulations to one of the real athletes at McGill with plenty of fight and an excellent successor to Dave Tennant and before him, Gordie Crutchfield, both of whom were ideal athletic graduates.

IN parting we return for a second to football, our first love and wish Coach Doug Kerr and Captain Lou Ruschin the best of luck and if it will do any good, predict that the title will come to McGill for the first time since 1928. Best of luck boys.

their efforts have helped place the DAILY before its subscribers morning after morning. We hope that as many of you as possible will return in the fall to help next year's Board with the same generous loyalty and enthusiasm you have shown this year.

The DAILY is yours for next year. It is yours to make or break. The DAILY, however, is not yours alone. The DAILY has a tradition behind it. The DAILY is bigger than any one man on its masthead. It is bigger than any one year's staff. You have a great chance ahead of you and we, the retiring members have confidence in you.

We leave the DAILY to you—but we remain part of it.

Sports Review in Brief

SENIOR HOCKEY

A NEW defence and a new coach retained McGill's International Intercollegiate Hockey League title for the second straight year. Coach Hughie Farquharson rounded out a team that lost only one game in its intercollegiate season, and that "trailed paths of glory" in the final stages of the Senior Group schedule. McGill, possibly fortunately, did not gain fast enough to make the play-offs.

In the Senior Group McGill lost seven straight games before the Christmas vacation. A jaunt to the States gave them confidence, or something, and they returned to complete the Senior Group schedule undefeated, winning four games and tying the other.

Captain Dave Tennant, in the nets for three seasons, bids adieu along with former Captain Gordie Crutchfield and Bill O'Brien, flashy wingman who made his presence really felt as the season closed. Popular Russ McConnell captains the team next year.

SKIING

MCGILL'S skiing stars consistently caught the headlines throughout the winter, but as a team they were unable to wrench top honours from the remarkable Indians of Dartmouth. The Carnival Meet and I.S.U. both went to Dartmouth. McGill retained its Mac-taggart Shield, and a second McGill team placed third.

Bob Johannsen swept to supremacy as the outstanding all-round Canadian skier with feats too numerous to enumerate. Special mention must be made of his three Dominion titles gained at Camp Fortune.

Jim Houghton, the only member of the Ski team graduating this year, won the Dominion Closed Slalom title and had a generally good year. Manager Don Tirrell and Captain Bob Townsend kept their teams going at top speed. The first annual Interfaculty Meet was very successful with Murray Outeth the individual star and Engineering the winning faculty.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL is one of the leading senior sports on the campus and wholly deserves support from the student body.

Consistently performing to the best of their ability were two of the team's graduating stars, Captain Ronnie Rutherford, who completed his third year on the squad, and John Shipley who was always in the game. Ronnie's partner in the guard position was a new comer to the team, Dave "Swish" Kingston, who in the Dodd's Trophy game scored 17 of McGill's points.

GYM

ONE sport which went its way without seeking the limelight but giving regular exercise to those interested was Gymnastics. There was enthusiastic attendance at the weekly instruction classes given by Coach Hay Findlay. The main event of the year came when McGill played hosts to Varsity in the annual Intercollegiate meet. Varsity retained its supremacy once more, but not before the Redmen had given a smart and precise display. The meet was held in the Montreal High Gymnasium.

Gordie Beall, McGill star of the last three seasons, was the chief threat against Toronto U. He placed second in the individual aggregate. Gordie is graduating and unfortunately will not be with us again. He also won the Wicksteed Meet, an Interfaculty event. Sproule, a newcomer, showed promise to win in the Freshman Class. Henderson won the Intermediate group.

B.W. & F.

THREE boxing crowns, a wrestling crown and the team fencing title was the record compiled by the McGill B. W. & F. team in the annual meet held this year at Kingston. In the heavyweight boxing division, George Muttibury came through to take the honors as did Pete Stanley and Jim Leslie who won the 155- and 145 lb. championships. The only wrestling crown that went to a wearer of the Red and White was in the 145 lb. class with Bert Saunders gaining the honors.

The fencers gained the team championship, but unfortunately, this part of the meet was not counted in the final tabulation to decide the B. W. & F. champions. Next year, the meet will be held in Montreal where McGill will have a decided advantage, since it is usually the home college that takes the title.

TRACK AND FIELD

THE past season saw the McGill Track and Field team relinquish its seven-year reign over the Intercollegiate circuit to the inspired Varsity squad at Toronto on a sea of mud and during a drizzling rain-storm. Toronto amassed 71 points to McGill's 50, with Queen's, Western and MacMaster bringing up the rear.

The Red squad, however, brought home with them three intercollegiate titles. Hank Morgan retained his Discus crown with a throw of 118 ft., 2 in.; Jack pumped 5.8 feet to win the High Jump title, while Clarry Frankton timed in at 15.24 to lead a classy field in the three mile run.

The manager was Ken Mackay, and Van Wagner was coach.

MCCONNELL MADE HOCKEY CAPTAIN

Congratulations are to be extended to Russ McConnell for his appointment as next year's Captain of the Senior Hockey team. Professor J. J. Kelly was given the position of Honorary President.

Russ McConnell

A secret ballot was taken amongst the players, and later a signed motion was passed and unanimously decided by all the players that McGill should continue to play in the local Quebec Senior Hockey League. This decision established the fact that the players feel that they can still play in the two leagues without any ill-effects.

As Mac Took Interfaculty Hockey Crown

CONTRARY to reports which have been in evidence recently, Macdonald's Interfaculty hockey team won the McGill Interfaculty title this season, decisively beating Medicine's strong aggregation by 3-1 to lift the crown. Awards will, of course, be made to members of the squad—and these are the boys who will be getting them:

D. M. May, H. G. Mitchell, Williams, Robillard, Kydd, A. Lundie, L. Lockerby, W. Cole, A. Robinson, L. Babiche, T. Beaupre, J. Wilmot.

Even doctors have to keep in top condition as Meds. found out on Wednesday afternoon. When the whistle blew to end the 45 minute game the Sawbones were just hanging on with the Green shirts swarming about their goalies.

Early in the second period Lundie wrapped himself around the goal post all in vain, when his goal was called back. Bob was badly shaken up and had to retire from the game until the last period. Incidentally, the post didn't budge.

The fireworks started as soon as he left the ice. Three minutes later, the Mac. men had slammed the puck past the Meds. goalie three times to go ahead 3-1 on the score. They were never headed for the rest of the game.

WATER POLO

This season at McGill was somewhat barren of championship but of the few that did come to rest within its portals, one was annexed by the Senior Water-Polo Squad when they trounced Varsity in the final game that climaxed a very fine season. This championship has become somewhat of a perennial one as the local lads have copied it for several years back. This year for the first time Queen's entered a team.

Individually the team was very strong, as instanced by the fact that Shragovitch was awarded the "most valuable player" cup in the City League, but as a team they were somewhat weak. The only player loss for the team will be Roy Crabtree who graduates this spring.

SENIOR FOOTBALL

THE fightingest durn team o' footballers to wear the Red and White in many a long year won many moral victories but only one league game this last year. McGill's football team, under the masterful coaching of Doug Kerr and his assistants, combined spirit and ability to a high degree, but could not offset the lack of a good kicker.

Four of McGill's six games were won by the team scoring seven points. McGill opened the season with a loss to Western at London, Ontario by the score of 7-2. The next week, in Montreal, responding to the "Beat Varsity Again" cry, a mighty Red machine rolled to victory on three forward passes with the final MacArthur-to-Merfield fling bringing home the bacon in the last second of play. History and bedlam were created simultaneously. McGill won 7-5 by the way.

The following week Queen's beat McGill here by 6-4 in as heartrending a defeat as the previous week's magnificent win. At Queen's McGill lost 7-0. McGill at Varsity, in another tumultuous tilt, lost 7-6. The final Western-McGill game here went to Western 4-1.

Graduating from McGill on the senior team are George Hornig, last year's captain; Cam MacArthur, the previous year's captain; Jimmy Hall; Andy Anderson; Arden Hedge and Charlie Thompson. Lou Ruschin was elected captain of the team for next year.

R.V.C. ARCHERY

R.V.C. Archery team competes against Y.W.C.A. team this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y.W.C.A. gym. The R.V.C. team of four includes Rhoda Gregory, Mildred Bailey, Myrtle Minto and Claire Flint. The team must be at the Y.W.C.A. gym at 8 p.m. sharp, and each member must bring her running-shoes.

HARRIERS

THE Harrier team was one of the few McGill teams which brought an Intercollegiate title. The Red squad, composed of Frankton, Todd, Cooke, Cowan and Pearson, ran well under adverse conditions at McGill to cop the Intercollegiate title as well as win the Dunlop five-mile road race with plenty to spare. This is the second year in a row that the Harriers have been outstanding, having set a record in the Intercollegiate last year.

Correspondence

The Editor, McGill Daily:
Dear Sir—As your last Daily goes to press I should like to correct a very wrong impression I seem to have given your reporter of Wednesday night, and, to some lesser degree, your reporter of Tuesday night.

According to reports of my "reactions" I do not favor Social Credit. Now, honestly, I neither favor nor denounce Social Credit. I feel very strongly that it is not the place of the college student to take too positive a position in political questions. It is the place of the student to study these questions so that he may understand them, before he adopts any definite stand. I have not made an exhaustive study of Social Credit and I do not understand it. My paper was a discussion not of the theory of Social Credit, but of the literary satire produced as a result of the Social Credit movement. I collected the cartoons used in my address to the English Literature Society not because I felt any personal grudge against Mr. Abernethy and his party, but merely because it was required that I should produce a term paper on some phase of political satire, and, as Social Credit is a modern phenomenon, and there was a wealth of material close at hand, I thought it should be an interesting and not too difficult subject.

Yours truly,
DOROTHY G. McCAIG.

The Editor, McGill Daily:
Dear Sir—We students of Third Year Engineering wish to make the following statements to draw, we hope, to a conclusion letters from what is unfortunately becoming the most vocal faculty on the campus.
That is, that the public suggestion that Jack Ross be asked to withdraw from the Scarlet Key Society be withdrawn as not being representative of student opinion in the Engineering Faculty for the following reasons:
1. This is the first occasion on which he was responsible for undue accusations.
2. Jack Ross has shown definite organizing ability in activities which have been advantageous to the Engineering Undergraduate Society, particularly in regard to the class bowling league and the "Smoker" held at the Macdonald College Surveying School last summer.
3. He has creditably represented Engineering and the University in college sports.
4. As Vice-President of the Mining and Metallurgical Society he has taken a sincere interest in the affairs of that body.
We sincerely hope that this will bring to a conclusion the unpleasant situation created during the past week.

Sincerely,
T. W. KIBRANS,
J. S. DUNPHY,

STUDENT WORK CAMP.

For those who want an economical summer in Europe I.S.S. can place them in a European work-camp for students. According to the latest reports places will be available in Switzerland, Hungary, Holland, England and probably in other countries.

International Student Service has connections with various agencies such as student unions and youth hostels and can supply information to students planning a vacation in Europe, particularly for those interested in meeting people as well as seeing things. Further information may be obtained on the activities mentioned by leaving a note for the McGill correspondent, Alfred Pick, at the Union Tuck Shop.

SCHOLARSHIPS IN ARTS AND SCIENCE.

Instead of the Second and Third Year Scholarships mentioned on pages 18-23 of the Scholarship Announcement there will be the following scholarships offered and competed for in the manner indicated:

Group I—Second Year Scholarships
Six scholarships usually of a minimum value of $100 each are offered to students advancing from the first to the second year for general proficiency or for proficiency in particular subjects of study. The awards will be made on the basis of the students' complete academic records and on recommendations from the departments in which they have taken their courses.

Group IV—Third Year Scholarships
Eight scholarships or more, usually of a minimum value of $100 each, are offered to students advancing from the second to the third year in both the General Course and Honour Courses, on the basis of academic record and recommendations from departments.

Group VI—Fourth Year Scholarships
Students advancing to the fourth year who have distinguished themselves in the General Course or in Honour Courses may be recommended to Senate by the Faculty for the renewal of a scholarship previously held or for the award of a University Scholarship.

It will be observed that the scholarships are open to competition by students in the General Course as well as in Honour Courses, and that no special Scholarship Examinations are to be held in September. The awards will be made at or shortly after Convocation.

ATTENTION!
ARTS, SCIENCE STUDENTS.

Registration for the Faculty of Arts and Science.

A provisional registration for courses of the next session will be introduced this year. It is to be held on the afternoons of April 11th to 14th inclusive, Monday to Thursday, immediately before the Easter vacation. All students are to register for their courses of the session 1938-39 at that time. Previous to registration they should consult their advisers and the heads of the departments in which they contemplate taking honour courses.

This registration will need only to be confirmed by the students in September unless they desire to change it, or are obliged to do so as a result of failure in their examinations. Such changes will be made in September at the usual time of registration.

Registration for Arts and Commerce will be held in Room 20, Monday to Thursday, April 11th to 14th, 2 to 5 p.m.

Registration for Science will be held in the office of Dr. W. H. Hatcher, Room 300, Chemistry Building, during the same period.

Note: Only students continuing in the course leading to the Science degree are required to register at this time.

Students are advised to consult the official bulletins of the various buildings for subsequent notices concerning this provisional registration.

II. New Regulations Concerning Advancement and Supplemental Examinations.

The present regulations on page 30-31 of the Announcement are superseded by new regulations.

These regulations make a change in regard to supplemental examinations, the removal of conditions and the status of limited undergraduates and others who cannot be promoted to a regular year. The regulations will be posted on the Bulletin Board of the Arts Building and elsewhere on Thursday, March 17th.

III. Meeting of the Dean and Students of the Faculty.

Students of the First Year in particular and all others interested will be addressed by the Dean in Moyle Hall on Tuesday, March 22nd, at 12.30. The Dean will explain the policy of the Faculty and the new regulations and he will at the same time advise students how to proceed in making the choice of their course of study.

IV. Reports of Examinations.

Students of the Faculty will receive in June an individual report of the results of their examinations. This report will inform them as to their standing under the new regulations and indicate what they are required to do in order to be admitted to regular standing in case they are deficient. In order to receive this report in June students must register in April. Failure to do this will necessitate considerable delay in the sending of the report to them.

EDITORIAL

This is the last issue of the Macdonald Supplement in the final issue of the Daily for the year, and as such concludes the first year of the present arrangement of bringing the Daily to our campus.

In making the arrangement for a Macdonald section of the Daily and for replacing the Fall-Ye Times as our college paper with the Daily, several advantages were gained. There can be no doubt in our minds as to which is superior.

Aside from the value of having two issues of the Supplement each week rather than the weekly Fall-Ye Times, there is another and more important advantage in that this forms a link in the chain binding Macdonald with the university.

Seniors and Frosh To Battle in Final Debating Contest

Subject Unannounced

Ross - Robertson Shield Goes to Winner

The final of the Ross Robertson Debating Shield which is held annually between the four years taking the Agriculture Degree Course will take place next Wednesday at 6.45 p.m. in the Assembly Hall. Representing the Freshmen, who were successful against the Sophomores, are Horner and Gold. Martin and Pope will debate for the Seniors, who earned this privilege by defeating the Juniors. The subject will not be disclosed till Friday evening in order that each team may be given an equal amount of time for preparation. It is believed by the committee in charge of these debates that by only allotting speakers five days to draw up material not too much valuable time will be spent which could be employed to better advantage. Watch the notice-board for the motion before the house.

FORMAL DANCE IS LAST BIG EVENT OF SOCIAL SEASON

SIMPSON'S ORCHESTRA

Favours, Floor Show, to Feature Gala Dance

One week from today is the date chosen for the guys and gals of Mac to have their last fling before they go into retirement to gird themselves for the fast-approaching battle with that perennial foe—examinations.

The formal committee, Messrs. James, Maciver, How and Beaupre, promise a setting suitable to the occasion, and point with pride to the fact that they are establishing a precedent in providing a favour for every lady.

Howard Simpson claims that he has his Privateers all primed to produce the perfect musical cocktail—a special blending of sweet and hot music.

At the time of writing tentative arrangements are being made with Hamish Dunn, President of the Lit. and Deb., to give the guests a special preview of some of the numbers which will be featured at the current Green and Gold Revue.

We are pleased to announce that although, unfortunately, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas will not be able to attend, they have offered their kind patronage. The other patrons include Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Stewart, Dean and Mrs. Brittain, Dean and Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Philp and Mrs. Strang.

Founded by the McGill Chapter of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity in memory of the members of that Chapter who gave their lives in the Great War. This scholarship is open to graduates of the University. The Selection Committee will consider: (a) the general scholarship of the candidate; (b) his need of financial assistance for further study; (c) the general usefulness to the community of the special branch of study he proposes to follow; (d) the likelihood that the candidate will reflect credit on the University.

There is no application form but students must apply in writing to the Registrar before the 1st of April. The Selection Committee will wish to have details of the postgraduate work the candidate intends to carry out and information concerning any extra-curricular activities. The name of two members of the University Staff, to apply for references if desired, should be given.
